'Pete' Metcalf Ends 35 Years in Postal Service

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

When he was hired by the post office as a Christmas substitute in December 1935, A. L. "Pete" Metcalf had little reason to believe that 12 years hence he would be named superintendent of mails and eventually would retire as assistant postmaster for Granite City.

The mid-1930s were lean years, so he willingly took the job of delivering Christmas packages during the rush season at an hourly rate of 65 cents.

Metcalf, 52, a member of the Granite City Board of Education and an active worker in many civic organizations over the years, retired Dec. 31 from the U. S. Postal Service.

From December 1935 until April 1936, he delivered parcels on an infrequent basis from the old post office, located at Westinghouse and Delmar avenues, now the site of Civic Park. Jobs were very scarce and Metcalf worked only if a regular employee was ill.

Conditions brightened when he was recalled as a substitute postal worker in 1936 and he was assigned as a carrier, clerk, special delivery messenger, and to any other task that needed doing.

A. L. 'PETE' METCALF

Metcalf delivered the "specials" via bicycle, occasionally walking when the letters were few. In 1936, the going rate of pay was 9 cents of the 10 cent delivery fee, he recalls.

Today, the special delivery fee is 60 cents and the postal employee is reimbursed at his regular hourly rate of pay. Rural carriers, however, even nowadays still are paid a percentage of the delivery fee, he noted.

But in 1936 it was not uncommon for Metcalf to deliver three or four letters per day and receive 27 or 36 cents for his trouble. Plus clerking or carrying mail for one or two hours daily, he managed to bring home a total monthly paycheck amounting anywhere from $35 to $50.

The retiree was promoted to regular postal clerk status in February 1940. He remained in that position for six years during which time he was appointed secretary of the area Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners.

He retained the non-paying board secretary's post until named a supervisor in August 1946, when he became ineligible to hold the post under federal regulations.

Named Supt. of Mails Metcalf was appointed acting superintendent of mails on Aug. 1, 1946 and confirmed as superintendent of mails on Jan. 1, 1947. He continued in that post until Sept. 30, 1963, when his appointment as acting assistant postmaster was announced.

He was confirmed as assistant postmaster on Jan. 1, 1964, remaining at the same job until the close of business Dec. 31, 1971.

In his years at the local post office, Metcalf worked every job — mail carrier, parcel post delivery truck driver, the regular functions of an office window clerk and in the now-defunct postal savings program.

He recalls the local post office in 1946 had about 35 employees, including supervisors, clerks, city and rural carriers and custodians. Today's employee force is 125.

From a financial standpoint—the figures reflect an equally strong growth. The postal revenue in 1935 was about $50,000. This year, as in the past few years, it will reach close to $1 million.

Had Other Duties Added to his other duties as assistant postmaster, in 1970 he was appointed Equal Employment Opportunity officer at the local level and invested with the responsibility to see that minority groups were accorded equal opportunities.

Metcalf resides with his wife, the former Alvenette Pritchett, at 2718 Cayuga St. They have four children, two daughters, and nine grandchildren.

He was born in Washington County, Mo., but came to Granite City when 2 years old, on Columbus Day, Oct. 12, 1911, and graduated from high school here.

The retiree was appointed to the Granite City School Board in August 1967 to fill an unexpired term. He later was elected to the board and served as board treasurer.

Metcalf also serves as chairman of the Special Education District Region 1 Board, composed of school administrators and officials from Granite City, Venice and Madison.

Boss of Year In 1970 he was honored by the Granite City Jaycees who named him "Boss of the Year." He also was presented the "Top Hat Award" by the Business and Professional Women's Club for outstanding community service.

Metcalf is past president of the Granite City Optimist Club; chairman of Elk's Lodge 1063; and serves as current treasurer of the Mexican Honorary Commission. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus 17-Cities Council 1098; Boosters of the Fighting Warriors; Madison County Police Association; Moose Lodge 272; Eagles Lodge 1128; and Legion of the Moose No. 101.

Always concerned with the welfare of local children, Metcalf hopes to be more active civically during his retirement years — a record he may find hard to beat.

William Meekhan Reappointed Fire Chief at Venice

The Venice City Council in regular meeting Tuesday night reappointed William Meekhan as chief of the Venice Fire Department for the year.

The council also concurred in the election of other fire department officers by members of the department. Under the regulations the fire chief is appointed by the mayor in city council, but other officers are named by the firemen.

Officers in addition to Meekhan are Thomas Scaturro, president; Thomas McCook, secretary; Charles Burger, treasurer; and Richard McIntosh, assessor.

Report on fire calls handled by the Venice department during 1971 was read to the council.

The report said that the department responded to a total of 214 fire calls. Three hundred and thirty-three calls were for fires in dwellings, 32, grass and brush fires, 24, shed and garage fires, 24, commercial, 34, school, 6, and 10, according to the report, the fire department responded to 36 out-of-town calls, six rescue calls and 10 false alarms.

The total fire loss for the year was estimated at $45,000. The report further showed that an average of 13.5 men worked fire calls during the year.

The council called attention to the fact that it has received many complaints from citizens over the illegal riding of minibikes. The council instructed the chief of police to enforce all laws and safety regulations governing mini bike operation.

According to Chief Ralph Brawley, mini-bikes may be ridden only on private property. Riding them in an alley, on sidewalks and streets is illegal, he said.

Brawley told the council his department would "clean up" on mini-bike violations. He said parents also may be fined if they permit their children to ride them illegally.

The McKinley Traffic report for December showed a total of 23,000 vehicles crossed the bridge for a daily average movement of 7,330 vehicles. This represents a 7% decrease from December 1970.

A resolution was approved authorizing Mayor John Egan to make application to the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission for a matching grant for the 1972 State Plan Program to establish a police community relations team within the city of Venice was passed.

The council announced its next meeting will be on Jan. 27 at 8 p.m. instead of 9 p.m.

Attorney Tells Art Council 'Count Us In'

Concern that an Illinois Arts Council report virtually omitted reference to institutions in the southern part of the state was expressed before a meeting of the arts council in Chicago Monday by Randall Robertson, Granite City attorney and a member of the board of the Mississippi River Festival.

Robertson suggested that the council "count us in" in the consideration of the arts in southern Illinois.

Robertson and Peter Pastreich, general manager of the festival, were among 35 witnesses appearing before the council on behalf of cultural organizations in the state and to appeal for more consideration of the arts in southern Illinois.

The attorney told the council that "our greatest concern is that the commission's report seems to have virtually omitted the southern portion of the state." He said that Odin is the only community south of Springfield considered in the report.

He said southern Illinoisans wonder why the river festival, which was attended by 140,000 persons, was omitted from the list of major arts institutions and from the report while a Chicago museum serving far fewer people with a smaller budget was included.

"Our first recommendation," Robertson said, "would be to count us in and to look more carefully at the rest of our great state." He also recommended that the council allocate substantial support to the river festival and to other important arts institutions in southern Illinois.

Pastreich told the council that the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra "is one of Illinois' two major orchestras."

Decree Entered In Charity Case

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has announced that a consent decree has been entered today in the Circuit Court of DuPage County by Judge William S. Atten, under which approximately $5,500,000 of trust assets were earmarked for distributions to Illinois charities.

Scott said that the decree culminated more than five years of litigation by the Attorney General's office on behalf of Illinois charities, resulting in the largest fund ever created by court litigation in Illinois for charitable purposes.

In 1966, the trustees of the Mark Morton Foundation sought court permission to turn over the assets of the Foundation to the International, Inc., pension plan. The Attorney General's office was made a party to the court action under his statutory powers as protector of the interests of the citizens of Illinois in the enforcement of charitable trusts. The settlement brought that litigation to an end.

The new $5,500,000 charitable fund is expected to pay about $500,000 annually for Illinois charities. Under the decree, approximately $10,000,000 will be used to fund supplemental pension benefits to retired Morton employees.

Representing Attorney General Scott in court were Special Assistant Attorney General William R. Dillon, H. H. Moyses and William M. Gibbons.

Lumber Firm Managers Get Hawaiian Holiday

To celebrate the attainment of $84 Million in annual sales, 84 Lumber Co. is taking 150 of its employees to Hawaii for a week-long, expense-paid Hawaiian Holiday.

It all started about 8 years ago when 84 Lumber had 17 lumber distribution centers and was doing about $23 million in annual sales. However, this was a lusty growth for a company that had started just seven years before with one store in rural Eighty Four, Pa., about 25 miles south of Pittsburgh.

Joe and Bob Hardy, chief executive officers and owners of 84 Lumber, in a moment of heady exuberance, made the promise to their 17 managers at a sales meeting that when 84 Lumber one day reached the magic figure of $84 Million in annual sales, they would treat all store managers and their wives to an Hawaiian Holiday.

Now, 84 has grown to 68 stores in 12 states with plans for 10 more new stores in 1972. In 1971 annual sales actually exceeded $90 million.

So, all 84 store managers, area managers and executives with their wives boarded a charter flight for Honolulu for a busy week of fun in Honolulu, Kona and Hilo, this week.

Next goal for 84 Lumber—84 stores—which the Hardy brothers expect to reach in 1973.

MORE ABOUT Governor

response we have received in Africa, in Japan and in Europe."

Ogilvie noted reforms undertaken with the Illinois State Fair, the nation's leading agricultural and "our premier farm showcase," resulting in tripled paid attendance and doubled income from revenue-producing shows.

Reviewing other accomplishments in the last three years, the governor said:

"We have improved and constructed more than 4,500 miles of Illinois highways, more than had been accomplished in the previous 10 years. Nowhere have we been more active in that effort than here in this area where the backlog had grown so staggering under the construction freeze."

Transportation Issue

"We succeeded in gaining bipartisan approval of a transportation bond issue which will begin to put long-needed freeways and improved community airports in every section of Illinois, opening up our rural areas to increased commerce and a job producing development."

"The impact of our road program on highway safety has been most dramatic of all. During 1970, the highway death toll in Illinois dropped more than any major state in the country. And the rate of traffic fatalities now stands at the lowest level in 50 years."

Ogilvie said state financing for education has nearly doubled in three years from $500 million to a billion dollars and the share of state costs has increased by a third.

94% County Increase

He said "In Madison County alone, state assistance for local school districts has gone from $13.7 million a year to $30.4 million, a whopping increase of 94%... This administration has done more for education than ever before in Illinois history."

Ogilvie applauded efforts in pollution abatement and noted that 45,000 new acres of parks have been acquired, in addition to more than 2,000 new campsites.

"There are many unfinished tasks," the governor said, "and it is those jobs which occupy our time in Springfield these days."

Personal Property Tax

"None is more important than to get rid of the unfair tax on personal property, which imposes such a heavy burden on you who make your living from the soil."

"We thought we had the job done with the referendum in 1970, but that overvoting expression by the voters was overturned by a court decision which, to be charitable, contained some mighty strange reasoning."

"The matter is being considered again by the General Assembly... I intend to use all the persuasion at my command to get rid of this ridiculous 'tax on the soil.'"

In Concluding, Ogilvie said

"I am confident, Ogilvie said, that the people of Illinois will support the measures necessary to bring about a new era of progress and prosperity for our state."

1 of 3 Nameoki Fire Trustees Is Reappointed

The Nameoki Board of Auditors appointed two new members and reappointed a third man, whose term had expired, to the Long Lake Fire Protection District Board of Trustees at its meeting Monday evening. A standing-room-only crowd of more than 50 residents attended the session.

Named by resolution as fire district trustees were the Rev. Paul Falter Jr., 3715 18th Drive, (three-year term); Wilbert Engelke, Box 680, Rural Route One, two-year term; and Harold Miller, 2300 Paul Ave., one-year term.

Engelke, a former trustee whose appointment expired May 5, 1969, continued to serve in the post until six weeks ago. Two other former fire district trustees who also retained office until last month, John Karlechik whose term ended in May 1970, and Raymond Dudley, whose appointment to the district board expired May 1970, were eliminated from the fire district authority by the new appointments.

Announced by Whitsell, appointment of the three was announced by Nameoki Supervisor Louis Whitsell after letters were read from Marshall "Zack" Smith, assistant state's attorney and legal adviser to the county board of supervisors, and Township Attorney William S. Schooley.

Both communications related to an apparent conflict of interest on the part of Whitsell.

Arrested on Warrants Clyde Sanders Jr., 2327 Circle Drive, was arrested at 1:10 p.m. Wednesday at his home on three warrants after allegedly failing to appear for jury trial. He is charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors. Bail was set at $6,000, and he was released to the St. Elizabeth Hospital for a dog bite on the arm before being taken to the Madison County Jail.

Residents of the Granite City Park District may obtain district identification cards from 8:30 to 8:30 p.m. today at the Wilson Park. Harold Brown, park superintendent, has announced.

"State government can meet the test of the 1970s. It can deal effectively with problems confronting Illinois... It is doing it every day. We have made a start, but there is a long road ahead."

The governor was introduced by Marvin Stiles, Farm Bureau president. Among souvenirs presented was a case of horseshadish by Walter Handfield of Granite City after Ogilvie referred to Madison County as the horseshadish capital of the world.

GC to Face Top Maroons in Game Friday

The season's most important basketball contest for the Granite City High School Warriors so far will take place Friday on the Belleville West court at 8:15 p.m.

To keep alive hopes for the Southwest Conference title the Warriors must defeat the league leading Maroons.

The Maroons are 4-0 in conference play and 9-3 overall. The Warriors are 3-2 and 8-3.

At the beginning of the season the defending conference champion Maroons were an unknown factor as only Bob Riestis, 6-3, returned.

Basketball fans will see the Maroons use an effective man-to-man, with shooting ability far above average, similar to the Alton style.

The game Friday will be the only meeting of the two teams this season.

The Warriors return for a non-conference game in Belleville against East Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

Jan Gitcho Defeats National Mat Champ

Jan Gitcho, former Granite City High School wrestler, who won 37 of 38 bouts as senior year, continues his high school career by defeating Southern Illinois University-Western's 126-pounder, SIU met and defeated the Franklin-Marshall team of Pennsylvania at Jacksonville Monday night.

The 126-pound match between Gitcho and Chris Black of the 1971 NCAA college division champ was of special interest because both wrestlers are top national contenders. Gitcho won over Black 4-1.

Gitcho finished second at the Southern Open Invitational Wrestling Tournament at Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 26 and Nov. 27 to Yoshie Fujita, former Japanese national champion and present NCAA University division national champion.

In early December, Gitcho won the Illinois Invitational Tourney at Champaign, defeating Mark Massery, the NCAA finalist from North Central.

Gitcho made history at Champaign two years ago when he won the Illinois Invitational at 118 pounds when wrestling for SIU of Carbondale. Now he is the champ at both 118 and 126 while wrestling for two different universities.

Many coaches rate the MG lands Open Wrestling Tournament held at La Grange on Dec. 29 and 30 as the toughest amateur meet in the nation. There Gitcho and Fujita again met in the finals and Fujita barely won 4-3.

At the La Grange Midlands Gitcho defeated national contender John Meikle of UCLA, and finished ahead of national contenders Mark Massery of Northwestern, Ron Thraisher, Oklahoma State, and Greg Johnson of Michigan State, two-time NCAA university division 118-pound national champion.

With Gitcho's recent victory over Black, Gitcho has assured himself of the number two national rating. Gitcho feels this is his best year because of the excellent coaching, inspiration and encouragement he gets from his coach Larry Kristoff, former world champion.

Couch Kristoff said, "Gitcho has tremendous talent and ability and will be an All-American without doubt." Now Gitcho is training in earnest for the NCAA finals this spring.

Northwest Out-Guns Trojans 93-52 After Hot 1st Quarter

St. Louis Northwest, top-ranked prep basketball team in the area, came to Madison High School Tuesday night and took home another victory, 93-52.

Madison Trojan fans received some thrills in the first quarter which ended at 21-20, but then Northwest moved away to 47-31 at halftime and 61-43 at the end of the third quarter. Northwest outscored Madison 32 to 9 in the final frame.

Northwest's Hercle "Poison" Ivy took scoring honors with 34 points, 24 of them in the first half. Ed Chandler was high point man for the Trojans with 19.

Northwest led in field goals 37 to 20 and in free throws 19 to 12.

Trojan Sam Byrd fouled out in the fourth quarter after picking up four fouls in the first half. Madison committed 17 fouls and Northwest 15.

Other Trojans scoring were Vernell Glasper 10, Terrance Young 8, Emory Wilson 5, Quincy Canada, Roger Glasper and Byrd 2 each, and Kelvin Boyd 1.

"We played a real good ball game the first quarter and then we just could not break their defense," Trojan Coach Larry Graham explained.

"Although our record is not improving (3-5), the team is. When you have a schedule that includes the very top teams in the entire area, including both sides of the river, you gain a lot of valuable experience, particularly for an inexperienced club; but you don't hit many victories."

The Trojans travel to St. Louis to meet Lutheran South, rated No. 9 in the area. The Trojans will face two very quick guards and a tall team with one player reaching 6'9 and another 6'7.

The Madison junior varsity fought their way to an overtime victory 73-72 over Northwest in the preliminary contest.

Brothers Win Warriors Dump Kahoks 59-0 in Mat Action

The St. Mary's Saints of Madison, a basketball team in the Granite City Park District cage program, could be called a fairly affair.

Four sets of brothers play on the Saints, Blue Division leaders at the church.

Keeping the Saint's perfect with a 5-0 record so far are John and Don Bunk, John and Frank Papa, Fred and Gary Banton and Allan and Aloysius Ratkiewicz.

The undefeated streak of the Granite City High School mat team was extended to an even dozen as Collinsville was blanked 99-0 there Tuesday evening.

The Warriors won all 12 matches, six by pins, five by decisions and one by forfeit. Pins by Doug Wilson (138), Tom Kalert (185) were the 21st victories for both wrestlers.

They lead the squad in wrestling points. Wilson utilized only one minute and six seconds to pin his opponent and Kalert's came at one minute and 44 seconds into the match.

Other winners by pins and the times of their matches were: Gary Loy (180), 33 seconds; Kerry Johnson (119), 3:32; Rich Paschedag (155), 4:57; and Craig Stephens (heavyweight), 2:40.

5 Win Decisions

Decision winners and their scores were: Phil Lapinski (89), 5:2; John Niebur (112), 9:7; Dennis Ragan (122), 13:0; Charlie Mayfield (145), 17:1; and Jack Schooley (167), 6:2.

Nevin Niebur (128) won by forfeit.

The junior varsity Warriors also fared well at Collinsville Tuesday evening, winning 61-6. Winners by pins were Pat MacMillan, Dan Heath, Dave Rushing, Mike Hollis, John Hankins, Ken Nolan, John Avedisian, Joe Holscher and Fred Trokey.

JV decision winners were Brian Willis and Don Heath. The two squads will travel to Belleville East for dual matches at 7 p.m. tomorrow. The varsity battle will be billed as the "battle of the undefeated giants" as both schools have clean dual meet records this season.

The varsity Warriors will travel to Hazelwood, Mo., Saturday for a quadrangular tournament with the host McCluer and Normandy. Action there will begin at 6 p.m.

The clinic will provide opportunities for officials to practice. The written examination for officials ratings will also be given.

"It's not sure how we will do in the Dupo tourney as many of the teams in it are playing some good basketball. We're going to work hard and do our best."

Work Soon on EA Rt. 151 Unlikely, Governor Says

Hopes for extension of the Great River Road from Granite City to Venice as soon as possible were quashed by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie at a press conference Tuesday afternoon at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

The governor, on the campus to address the 33rd annual meeting of the Madison County Farm Bureau, told the Press-Record that it is a matter of priorities with funds available. High priority is being given to interstate highways which will extend up and across the middle of the state, he said.

Asked to comment on objections by Missouri Gov. Warren Hearnes on placing a metropolitan airport at Waterloo, Ogilvie replied, "I think this is to be expected with the political situation here."

He added that there is no economically feasible area in Missouri which would cost less than three times the cost on this side of the river.

Ethics Legislation
The governor said he would call for strong ethics legislation and campaign spending disclosures from the new session of the General Assembly.

With this being an election year, Ogilvie said he believes the main issues in the state will closely follow those in the nation, including the economy, with a major state issue to be the competency of and confidence in state officials.

"The citizens are feeling over the (Paul) Powell case," he said.

Switching to reductions in budgets at universities in the state, the governor said "we made recommendations which failed to receive favorable approval."

Every state and governor is faced with the same problem.

Occupational Training
"We are going to see a much greater concern in occupational (vocational) training. . . . We are going to have to make priorities based on total state needs. Some people in education won't like it."

He indicated that the state would discontinue providing for education of too many teachers, of whom he said there is an oversupply.

When asked why a $150,000 scholarship fund as part of a Granite City Steel Co. arlution settlement went to the University of Illinois instead of SIU-SW, Ogilvie replied, "We were not asked for any advice."

Speaking on the loss of federal funds for a St. Louis area rapid transit study, he said the situation there may cause a minor delay on Illinois plans. The governor also commented that in his opinion, the new Illinois Constitution contains more good than bad points, "and that is why I endorsed it."

JUNIOR SERVICE BOARD TALKS OF PROBLE PARENT

Mrs. Mary Lou Worthen, 37 Janday Lane, was hostess Monday for the monthly board meeting of the Granite City Junior Service Club.

After the meeting was opened by Mrs. Carol Tritschuk, president, minutes were read, bills were presented, a treasury report was given, correspondence was read and charity cases were presented.

A report was made by Mrs. Flora Mae Lensing on the Christmas party given at The Colonnades nursing home. Santa presented a gift to each patient, and many gathered in the recreation room for singing of Christmas songs.

Birthdays were celebrated by those patients having birthdays in November and December. Refreshments were served, it was related.

Mrs. Phyllis Grimm reported that baskets of food were delivered to several needy families at Christmas.

A report on Christmas stockings made for newborns at St. Elizabeth Hospital during Christmas week was given by Mrs. Tritschuk.

Pat Grimm reported that toys were distributed to children of nine needy families for Christmas.

It was decided to continue visits to The Colonnades every two months. The club will host another birthday party for patients there in February.

A special party for "probies" (probationary members) will be planned under the chairmanship of Mrs. Phyllis Grimm. The date will be decided at the club's next meeting.

The club's annual spring fashion show is in the process of being organized and will be held April 16 at the Southwestern campus of SIU. Co-chair-moratorium on new construction might be one answer to the problem. Ramsey Alexander Jr., project engineer for local flood control projects of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, responded, "We can stop all the building you want but you won't stop the problem."

Later Alexander suggested a moratorium may be an effective tool in assuring cooperation between governmental organizations on drainage problems.

"Declare a moratorium until you get every township and every city together on the problem," he said.

Ralph Morris of Morris Realty Co. said, "You can not just halt building. The result would be community decay. You would put construction workers out of work and would put construction companies and suppliers out of business." He said, "A result also would be higher property taxes."

Alexander was asked if lowering the level of Horseshoe Lake would help solve the problem. He replied the result would be negligible. Nevertheless, Ebersold promised the levee district would begin work this morning to provide a larger outlet for the lake water and to lower the level of the lake.

Also present at the meeting were Ted Kavadas, executive assistant to the director of the Department of Conservation, Tom Evans, resources planner in the long-range planning division of the conservation department, and Bill Lutz of the operations division of the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Open Letter To Madison Parents And Citizens

Dear Parents and Citizens,

We, the teachers in Madison, would like to let you know about the status of negotiations between the Board of Education and the Madison Federation of Teachers.

We are sure many of you are not aware that the teachers are working under last year's contract and salary schedule. We have received no raise even though the freeze has been over for almost two months.

In February of 1971, 11 months ago, meetings began between the Board of Education and the Madison Federation of Teachers. In April the Board of Education offered a $300 raise to all teachers. This was rejected. When Phase II began in November and the Wage-Price Board established its guideline of 5.5% the teachers proposed this as our salary increase. The Board of Education has rejected this and has now withdrawn its $300.00 offer and terminated all negotiations.

Sincerely,

Madison Federation of Teachers

Part of GC Treatment Program Is Endorsed

The Task Force of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council yesterday approved part of Granite City's program to upgrade sewer treatment in a $15.3 million project calling for construction of a secondary treatment plant and interceptor sewers.

The Task Force agreed to follow recommendations of its sub-committee for the project to upgrade sewer treatment, but deferred action on requests for federal funds to build the interceptor sewers.

Action is not expected on the interceptor plan until a study for construction of treatment plants in Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau townships is completed. The study is expected to be completed early next month.

Bus System Running Out of Needed Funds

The Bi-State Development Agency is not surprised at the Transportation Department decision to withhold future transit funds, Chairman E. J. Delmore Jr. said Tuesday in reporting that its bus system will be bankrupt by July or September if present trends continue.

The U. S. insists that existing systems he maintained while planning rapid transit and also systems having only a single agency, Delmore said. He said this is why Bi-State has offered to turn over its system to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, which has indicated it will compete to handle rapid transit.

SSI Negotiations Resumed Today

Negotiations in the Castings Division of General Steel Industries strike by United Steelworkers of America Local 1022 resumed today at the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service office in St. Louis.

Representatives of the two negotiating teams met Wednesday, Jan. 5, and negotiations were to have resumed Friday, but were postponed until Monday, Jan. 17.

A company spokesman said this morning that the postponed meeting would be held today, rather than Monday. The strike began Nov. 20.

Madison Teachers Picket Offices, Talks Called Off

Madison teachers set up informational pickets before and after school this week in front of the administration offices and the office of Chester McManaway, president of the board of education, after negotiations failed to produce a contract for the 1971-72 school year.

The Madison board concluded negotiations Monday and withdrew a $500 increase which it previously had offered. Madison Federation of Teachers Local 763 attempted to gain $500 pay hikes under federal 3½% guidelines.

Teachers are working under the 1970-71 contract agreement. The board claims it has insufficient funds to meet the union demands. The union claims the board's offer was insufficient and suggested that funds could be transferred from other accounts to the salary account.

McManaway claimed the transfers would be impossible. He said the union previously agreed to the offer. The board, in turn, noted that negotiations for a new school year usually begins in February.

2 Suits Challenge Jury Selection System

Two suits were filed in Circuit Court this week challenging the operation of Madison County's jury selection system for Andrew Towns and James Bush, who claim they were denied jury duty because of their race.

Defendants are Nina Henkhaus, head of the jury commission, and Herley Shult, William Harrison and Emmett Howard, commission members. The suits claim jurors are not representative of a cross section of the people and resulted in damages of $50,000.

Towns seeks $50,000 in anticipated damages in a pending personal injury suit, and Bush seeks $25,000 actual and $25,000 punitive damages because of an allegedly wholly inadequate verdict returned in a personal injury suit last month.

Lawn & Garden By WAYNE B. SIEBERT Area Extension Adviser, Ornamental Horticulture St. Clair and Madison Counties

CLOSE CUT FOR ZOYSIA AND BERMUDA GRASS

Wintering of Zoysia and Bermuda lawns is one of safety. Dry winter weather may cause a fire hazard if you cut your Zoysia or Bermuda grass too long last fall. The golden color is dead plant material which becomes dry and crispy. But a close winter cut, leaving only 1/2 or 3/4 inches removes most of the dry tops without injuring the plant. Adequate soil moisture, and a minimum of dry stubble helps prevent fires without harming the dormant grass.

SEWING CORDUROY
If you plan to make a garment from corduroy, select a simple pattern—one with a minimum of seams, tucks and darts. As you place the pattern on the fabric, make sure the pile runs in the same direction for all pattern pieces. The direction of the pile makes a difference in the sheen or luster, and this should be uniform throughout the garment.

Wage-Price Post With Smith Corp. For Tom Sullivan

The board of directors of A. O. Smith Corporation has elected William L. Thompson as vice president of the company's Meter System division. The announcement was made yesterday by U. F. Kuehne, A. O. Smith president.

Thompson, 49, will succeed Thomas A. Sullivan, 63, a former Granite Cityman, who has elected early retirement from A. O. Smith after 21 years with the company. Sullivan has agreed to remain with the company to assist with wage and price administration as vice president, government relations.

In his new position, Thompson assumes responsibility as division manager of the Meter Systems operation in Erie, Pa. He has served as assistant division manager since June 1971. He joined A. O. Smith in 1946 as an accountant in the company's Consumer Products division and served in various capacities in sales, purchasing and administration.

Thompson moved to the Meter Systems division in 1964 as general manager of the division's electronics operation. In 1967 he was made director of marketing, a position he held until his appointment as assistant general manager of the division.

Sullivan joined A. O. Smith in 1950 as assistant to the division manager of the company's process equipment division.

Plant Manager Here

He has also served as manager of the Granite City automobile frame plant and as manager of maintenance in Milwaukee. In 1962, Sullivan was elected vice-president and general manager of the process equipment division and became vice president and general manager of the Meter Systems division in 1964.

Sullivan earned his undergraduate degree in mechanical engineering at the Illinois Institute of Technology and holds a master's degree from Marquette University, Milwaukee.

A. O. Smith, with its subsidiaries, is a widely diversified manufacturer of automobile and truck frames, electric motors, electrical controls, meter systems, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, water heating equipment, elevators, pumping systems and other products.

Automotive Division Post

Robert A. Owsley has been appointed manager of traffic operations for A. O. Smith's Automotive division, it was announced by Richard H. Heilmann, corporate director of transportation and distribution. Owsley succeeds the late Richard C. Cook, Owsley, who joined A. O. Smith 22 years ago, as assistant manager of traffic operations before being appointed manager.

The board of directors of A. O. Smith Corporation, meeting in Milwaukee on Monday, declared a regular quarterly dividend of 35 cents per share of common stock, payable Feb. 15 to shareholders of record Jan. 31.

James McRoberts, Kiwanis Honors GOP Delegate, to Support Nixon

James W. McRoberts Jr. of Belleville, candidate for Delegate to the Republican National Convention from the 23rd Congressional District of Illinois, announced today that he will be committed to President Richard M. Nixon.

Under a new Illinois law, each candidate for Delegate to the two national conventions must file a statement with the Secretary of State declaring his preference of the presidential candidate to be nominated, or declaring that he is uncommitted. Yesterday was the first day to file petitions for candidacy.

McRoberts said, "This new law is a step forward in representative government. The voter does not have a direct voice in the nomination of either presidential candidate. Under our system, his vote is registered by his elected delegate. This law requires a candidate for delegate to tell the voters how he stands, or to tell them that he is uncommitted and does not stand for anything."

"I am going on record to the 23rd District that as their delegate, I will cast their vote for the nomination of President Nixon for a second term. I call on other candidates to state their positions, and not file statements that they are uncommitted. Only in this way will the voters know what they are voting on."

McRoberts is a lawyer. He is 38.

The Republican National Convention will be held in August in San Diego, Calif. Delegates to the convention will be elected in the March 21 primary election. Two delegates and two alternate delegates will be elected from each congressional district. There will be 58 delegates and 58 alternate delegates from Illinois. The 23rd Congressional District consists of 11 townships in Madison County (Chouteau,

The event was held to honor each member of the team and the manager, Jerry Duncan, who has served nine years with the team. Howard Ethernott is assistant manager.

The local service club has sponsored the team for several years and has received trophies won by the team.

Members of the team who attended were Frank Baron, Jerry Duncan, Mark Spear, Steve Burdge, Terry Ripka, Howard Ethernott Jr., Jim Childers and Dave Douglas.

Since the team members have reached the age of 17 the Kiwanis Club will sponsor another team this summer with boys in the 9-10 year old bracket. Also attending the dinner were four members of the Wood River Club. They were Jeff Counton, Joe McBride, Joe Weizer and Joe Broadus.

Police said they were unable to talk to Ingraham due to his injuries to determine the circumstances of the accident.

Ingraham was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by ambulance where he was admitted with a laceration to his face, forehead and right ear. X-rays of skull and spine were taken.

Collinsville, Edwardsville, Fort Russell, Granite City, Helvetia, Jarvis, Nameoki, St. Jacob, Venice, and Wood River), and all of St. Clair County.

County Mental Health Board Lacks Quorum

The regularly scheduled meeting of the Madison County Mental Health Board was cancelled Monday night because of the lack of a quorum. Only three members answered roll call. A quorum requires four. An appointee to the board, Mrs. June Kluge of Collinsville, and two former members were in the audience when the roll call was taken. The two former members present were Ralph Yemm of Wood River, former board chairman seeking reappointment, and Sylvester Bugger of Collinsville, who is seeking reinstatement.

Scott Recovers Expense Fees

Attorney General William J. Scott has announced the recovery of $8,872 from Joseph E. Knight of Dow, former State Director of Financial Institutions, in final payment of money obtained on improper expense accounts.

A certified check representing full payment of Knight's obligation was turned over to Raymond L. Terrell, Assistant Attorney General, in Sangamon County Circuit Court.

Scott, who sued three former state officials who had claimed that their official headquarters were in their home towns, received a total of $8,186 from them. Earlier he collected a $10,326 judgment against John S. Henson of Villa Grove, who was Assistant Director of Financial Institutions, and Fred A. Cain of Jacksonville, who had been supervisor of abandoned property in Knight department. All held office during the administration of former Governor Otto Kerner.

The Attorney General in the three suits said that the three men improperly claimed that their official headquarters were in their home town, rather than Springfield. As a result, they were reimbursed for travel, meals, lodging and other expenses while working in the Financial Institutions department's main office in Springfield.

Under Illinois law, a state official's headquarters must be at the place, usually Springfield or Chicago, where the major part of his duties are performed. Reimbursement is legal only for expenses away from the headquarters city.

Madison Fire Victims Seeking Assistance

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Powers, 1901 Fourth St., Madison, victims of a fire at their home this week, appealed this week for help in replacing clothing, furniture and household items destroyed by the flames, smoke and water.

The family was not at home when the fire was discovered. The blaze consumed most of the rear bedroom by the time firemen arrived. Mrs. Powers said. The room, including walls and a new ceiling, the floor, which has a large hole burned through it, will have to be replaced, she said.

All furniture and clothing in the room was destroyed, she related. In addition, smoke and water destroyed all bedding and clothing and the only furnishings saved were a freezer and a stove, both of which were in the kitchen.

Mr. Powers is employed by a service station in Clayton, Mo. and Mrs. Powers works at Gail M. Sobel clothing factory in St. Louis. "We are trying to do it without help," she stated.

The couple has one daughter residing at home, Paula Marie, 14. She wears a size 14 dress, size 12 slim jim, size 34 blouse and size eight shoes, Mrs. Powers said.

Mr. Powers wears size 50 pants, and size 18 shirts and size 10 AAA shoes. Mrs. Powers wears size 24½ dresses and size seven shoes.

"We need help badly and anything that can be donated will be a help," she said. She said donations may be made at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gloria Henson, 2081 Rhodes St., Madison, or will be picked up if those with donations will call the Henson home at 878-8290.

MRS. EDDIE STEPHENS, the former Miss Cheryl Key Wood, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wood, 2137 Alton Ave., Madison, whose wedding took place at Tri City Park Tabernacle.

Cheryl Wood Becomes Mrs. Eddie Stephens

Tri City Park Tabernacle was the scene of the wedding Jan. 8 of Miss Cheryl Wood, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wood, 2137 Alton Ave., Madison and Eddie Stephens, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Stephens, 2015 Lee Ave.

The Rev. Eugene Cope officiated at the double ring, candle-light ceremony before an altar adorned with arrangements of white, orchid and purple mums.

Serving as candlelighters were Donna and Sherry Wood and Debbie Wood presided at the guest book. All nieces of the bride.

Miss Lyndia Kelly, soloist, sang "For All We Know" and The Lord's Prayer. She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Virgie Collins.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Wood wore a formal length Empire style gown of white bridal satin. Exquisite crocheted lace formed the stand up collar and lace designs were repeated on the bodice. A band of matching lace encircled the waistline and edged the cuffs of the long full sleeves.

A forward headpiece of crocheted flowers, centered with pearls, held in place a bouffant veil bordered with lace, and she carried a bouquet of orchid, white and purple mums.

Mrs. Linda Coleman, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor, serving with bridesmaids, Connie Stephens, a sister of the groom and Pamela Hill, a niece of the bride.

They were attired in floor-length, A-line gowns made with purple velvet bodices, short puff sleeves and orchid skirts. Noeslip veils in orchid were secured with a purple velvet ribbon and they carried mixed bouquets of white, orchid and purple flowers.

The little flower girl, Dana Coleman, a niece of the bride, was dressed in a frock similar in style to the bride's. She carried a miniature bridal bouquet.

Dale Stephens, the groom's brother, served as best man. Groomsman, were Gary Wood and Rennie Stephens, brothers of the bride and groom, respectively. Don and Bob Wood, also the groom's brothers, seated the guests.

Ricky Stephens, another brother of the groom, was the ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wood chose a gray jacquard knit shift-style dress with gray accessories.

Mrs. Stephens selected a navy blue and white double knit dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore white corsages.

The former Miss Wood, a 1971 graduate of Madison High School, is now employed at Travelers Insurance Co., St. Louis.

Mr. Stephens was graduated from Union High School, Union, Mo., in 1967. He is employed at General Motors in St. Louis.

The couple will reside in Granite City.

Mrs. Emma Schoen, 1828 Ferguson Ave., will serve as hostess in February.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES R. JUMP JR., who were married at the First United Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Miss Patricia Thomas, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent O. Thomas, 2707 Center St.

Jump-Thomas Nuptials At First Presbyterian

The wedding of Miss Patricia Thomas, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent O. Thomas, 2707 Center St., and James R. Jump Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jump Sr., 2817 Saratoga Ave., was solemnized Dec. 10 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. David Maxton heard the couple exchange their wedding vows at 7 o'clock.

For her wedding, the bride selected a white silk organza gown, with the bodice and long sleeves of imported Venice lace. Lace was repeated at the scoop neckline and the A-line skirt swept into a chapel train of matching Venice lace.

An elbow length veil of bridal illusion was secured with a triple satin bow, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations bordered with winter greenery and holly.

Mrs. Carrie Carney was maid of honor and Miss Donna White served as bridesmaid. They wore identical, formal tulle A-line gowns of light green silk shantung, featuring Victorian collars and short puff sleeves trimmed with white lace.

Each attendant carried a cluster of red carnations centered in a garland of holly.

Curt Young served as best man, with Wayne Landford as groomsmen. Ronnie Lowe, brother-in-law of the bride, was an usher.

Mrs. Sandra Lowe, sister of the bride, presided at the guest book at a reception given at The Den.

Mrs. Thomas chose a yellow, knit dress for her daughter's wedding, complemented with black accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a navy blue and white knit dress and matching accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

The former Miss Thomas is a senior at Granite City High School. Mr. Jump was graduated in 1970 from Granite City High School.

After a wedding trip the couple returned to Granite City to reside.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH KISSEL, who were married in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Violet Hughes, 2820 Myrtle Ave. The bride is the former Miss Elizabeth Ann Miller.

Miss Elizabeth Miller, Kenneth Kisel Are Wed

Miss Elizabeth Ann Miller and Kenneth Kisel were united in marriage at 4 p.m., Dec. 18, in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Willard Myers, a retired Baptist minister, in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Violet Hughes, 2820 Myrtle Ave.

The bride's father, Wesley Miller, resides in Memphis, Tenn. The groom is a son of Mrs. Mary Kisel of Rural Route One and the late Kenneth Kisel.

The former Miss Miller wore a white A-line dress, featuring long sleeves and a scoop neckline encircled with a narrow band collar.

A pearl tiara held in place a shoulder length veil of illusion and she wore a white carnation corsage.

Miss Jo Ann Johannmeier, maid of honor, was attired in a pink dress with a corsage of pink carnations.

Wally Uster served as best man.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the bride's home.

After a wedding trip to the Ozarks, the newly married couple will make their home in East Alton. Mr. Kisel is employed at the Clark Refractory in Alton.

Fischer-Bedell Vows Exchanged in California

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that taking place Nov. 20 in California of Miss Winona Alice Bedell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Bedell Sr., of 2527 Gaspar Ave., Commerce, Calif., and Edward I. Fischer of 5220 a Southall Lane, Bell, Calif., at St. Marcellinus Catholic Church in Commerce.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fischer, 5727 Fry St., Bell Gardens, Calif., former Granite City residents. He is the grandson of Mr. Steve Fischer, 1637 Spruce Street.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Peter Bullum, pastor. The altar was decorated with baskets of white mums and gladioli and white satin bows marked the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin princess-style gown with a detachable long train. The dress was designed with long Gibson sleeves and a high neckline edged with lace embroidered with seed pearls.

Her three-tiered illusion veil was secured with a cascade of lace rose petals embellished with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Miss Janice Sandberg, the only attendant, selected a royal blue velvet Empire gown, trimmed in yellow lace. A matching velvet head bow secured a noisep veil in blue and yellow. Her flowers were a cascade of yellow carnations, baby roses and blue baby breath.

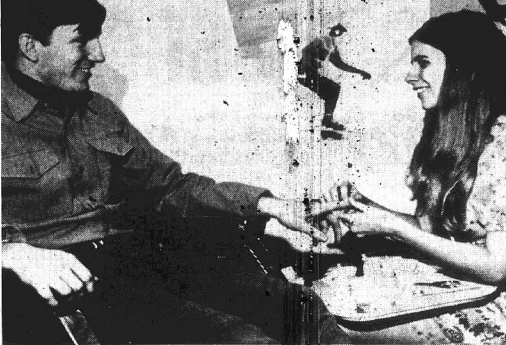

Karyn Lynn Bedell, a niece of the bride, appeared in a royal blue velvet gown and blue and yellow veil held in place with a large blue velvet bow. The flower girl carried a basket of yellow carnations.

Mr. Fischer chose Edward V. Hellmann, a cousin, as best man. Ushers were William M. Bedell, a brother of the bride, and Charles I. Fischer, the groom's brother.

More than 100 guests were received at a reception at the Rosewood Park Recreation building.

Both young people are graduates of Bell Gardens High School. The former Miss Bedell attends East Los Angeles College and is employed by Kierulff Electronics.

Mr. Fischer attends the same college and is employed by R. C. Cola Bottling Co.

ATTRACTIVE ADDITION to the all-male clientele at the SIU-SW barber shop is Christine Myers, 21, an art major and the first manicurist employed at the campus facility. She started the job Friday. Larry Sifton of Godfrey appears to be enjoying the manicure and the personal attention.

Haircuts May Prove Popular at SIU-SW

Christine Myers, an art major at Southern Illinois University-Springfield, has taken on an unusual student job and apparently is a hit in her new role.

Miss Myers, 21, of St. Louis County, is the first manicurist at the SIU-SW barber shop and for $1.50, the all-male clientele has something to look at beside Argosy when they next get a haircut.

Does she like the job? "The job caters to men—I like it like my job," she, the coed says.

What about women? "I like to look pretty, then to look at me, and I like being a woman. I guess I do believe in women's lib," she added.

Miss Myers attended Menominee Community College in St. Louis before coming to the SIU-SW barber shop. She hasn't had many customers yet—but Friday was her first day on the job. "And five men have told me they would be back," Chris said happily.

The attractive addition to the barber shop staff may start a whole new trend in haircuts at the local campus. At least the SIU barbers think the idea is great.

Food for Thought

By SISTER CORNELIA
One of the finest gifts that parents can give their child is "discipline."
When discipline is enforced at home, it prepares the child for the world.
It is important in the child's social relations, spiritual life and school and the job he may hold later in his life.
A person who gets to work on time, or who can schedule his daily duties to find time for important things, and who can do his work neatly, is the child who most probably profited from his parents' corrective measures during his childhood.
In his social relationships, a disciplined person will bring out his self-confidence and the confidence of others comes from knowing the boundaries within which he should perform and the limitations he should respect.
The child will have learned respect for others and their property and will practice courtesy.
A disciplined person will have confidence in his spiritual life, having learned respect for authority and acceptance of himself.
Schooling clearly requires strong self-discipline as well as instruction and correction from teachers.
Because life is a long learning process, the child who learns to discipline himself, the more he will be able to learn.
By the same token, discipline should not be administered without discernment; it is a full-time job for parents.

Fussing, nagging or scolding whenever a child makes a mistake is not only meaningless to him, it is not enough to administer discipline only when it is convenient for parents or when the youngster has driven them to the "blow up" or "blast off" stage.
This haphazard method of training, I feel, is especially harmful because the child becomes insecure, not knowing where the boundaries are.
I believe security can come only from consistent discipline administered fairly.
Your child sees you as his parents, judge and final authority on what is right and wrong.
Common sense tells us that punishment should fit the wrong doing, so that the child will clearly understand the correction—and it should never be too harsh.

Book Review—Profound Impact by Papa Bear on Professional Football

GEORGE HALAS AND THE CHICAGO BEARS; by George Vass; Henry Regnery Co.; 239 pages; $6.95.
Reviewed by PAUL CORCORAN
Copley News Service
This is not a particularly articulate book, but it does identify what is good and what is bad about professional football. But anything that is written about George Halas—known to millions as "Papa Bear"—is significant in sports and in life. One man has influenced the nation's most popular sport more profoundly.
There would be no professional football team without George Halas.

Fundamental Facts to Keep You Solvent in the Credit Card Era

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)
The day is coming, speculate top-notch financiers, when only a few oldtimers will remember the feel of good, cold cash.
Thanks to an increasingly credit-oriented world, a new economic life style has been born which foregoes the exchange of the traditional greenback for the basic necessities of food, lodging and clothing.
Instead, the head of the household now tends to "buy on time" or in deferred payments. Then, as the bills arrive, he simply pays by check, drawing funds from an account in which his deposited net cash, but his salary check.
It is recommended that you know the credit laws before you are swept up in "credit carditis."
Under Illinois law, a credit card is simply any plate, coupon, book, card or other credit device—or a number of other identifying description—which is issued for the purpose of obtaining property, labor or services for a deferred payment.
Some people complain about receiving unsolicited credit cards through the mail from various companies. The recipient cannot be charged for $20 may be made for card as long as he does not use it or authorize its use by another party.
The undersigned card should be either destroyed or returned to the sender.
Introduction of "revolving credit" provided yet another area to be defined and regulated by law.
Under this credit arrangement, the lender may from time to time make loans or advances to the account of the debtor through the means of drafts, items, orders for the payment of money or evidences of debt signed by the debtor or someone authorized by him.
The lender then bills the debtor on a regular basis.
Under a revolving credit plan, the law provides that the lender may collect interest not in excess of 1½% per month on either the average daily unpaid balance of the principal of the debt during the billing cycle—or the unpaid balance of the day of the billing cycle.
In addition to the interest charge, a lender may also deduct a charge of 25 cents for each transaction in which a loan or advance is made under the revolving credit.
Instead of this additional charge, an annual fee not exceeding $20 may be made for the privilege of using the credit.

The BHE contends universities are "top-heavy" in administrative overhead.

4. Criticized a 50% cut in the recommended operating budget for the SIU-SW data processing center, saying, "We are absolutely being jerked into a statewide network, jeopardizing instructional programs. To go at it like Lizzie Borden—with the ax—is very unwise." Computer equipment leased from IBM would be returned to the company and "we won't be able to provide all the reports the BHE wants," he notes.

Illinoisans in a statewide referendum created the local university and thus indicated acceptance of the challenge to provide needed higher learning for this, the state's No. 2 concentration of population.
To the extent that Governor Ogilvie and the Board of Higher Education abandon this commitment, their policies must be taken into account by those same voters.

Welfare Streamlining Essential to Avoid Waste, Delays, Mistakes and Vast Abuses

All one's instincts bear out concern for others, particularly the less fortunate, so it is understandable that welfare has been accepted as one of the primary missions of America's government. But it is a costly undertaking and consequently one that must be kept as well-administered and efficient as possible.
A disturbing new study by Uncle Sam indicates that about 700,000 are ineligible for the welfare benefits they receive. It attributes the unjustified payments to "honest mistakes" by administrative agencies, but the mispending of up to a half-billion dollars annually is a shockingly unfair burden on the already struggling taxpayer. It is further testimony to the acknowledged need for overhaul of welfare in the U.S.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which conducted the study, cites the reasons as evidence of the need for congressional action on welfare reform. Although there are serious objections to the lack of adequate work incentives in the President's proposed minimum income guarantee—$2,400 a year for a family of four—some effort must be made to create order out of chaos and cut through the tangle of overlapping systems, conflicting state and federal laws and unclear regulations.

The federal government came into the welfare picture in 1935. Infusion of federal money in state and county programs in operation for a century and more was helpful, but it complicated the administration of the individual system and initiated a steady escalation of total welfare costs.
Constant changes in U.S. laws to guide the states in distribution of federal funds to 14 million applicants have brought corresponding changes in state laws. As a consequence, the confusion of overlapping laws has created what one high government official calls "50 non-systems" of welfare.

There are programs for the blind, the aged, families with dependent children, the unemployed, and several categories of ill and disabled. Payments and eligibility under the various classifications are determined according to the interpretation placed on the law by managers, caseworkers and clerks.

The HEW report blames misunderstanding of the rules, agency mistakes and the procedural delays caused by overwhelming paper work. And the faltering welfare machinery also appears to be vulnerable in some situations to deliberate cheating.

The current bill probably does not meet the essentials of a workable welfare system but some sort of federal response seems advisable to standardize benefits among the states, provide incentives for recipients to remove themselves from the rolls and minimize the tons of paperwork.

The HEW says that, under current conditions, "mistakes, delays and abuses are inevitable." Neither the taxpayers who support the system nor the needy who depend upon it can indefinitely be tolerant of such myriad deficiencies.

In 1969, shortly after the Nixon administration took office, ACLU legal director Melvin L. Wolf observed that "we are not yet a fascist state in general."

Later, in the wake of the Kent State killings, the "Selling the Pentagon" on television and the Pentagon Papers publication, the ACLU let go a broadside against the Nixon administration and Vice-President Agnew.

"The crimes which the government is committing in the name of law and order," Wolf charged, "are far more grave than the so-called crimes committed by private citizens."

Wolf was speaking in defense of those radicals who use bombs and other forms of violence as an alleged protest against the Vietnam war.

Val L. Prof. Joseph W. Bishop Jr., in the December 1971 issue of Commentary, a liberal organ, took the ACLU to task for its marked change from a liberal to a radical activist organization.

"The union has embarked," Bishop notes, "on a series of political crusades which may be moral, or even right, but which have no readily discernible goals."

Other states affected were J. J. Newberry Co., Lipson Shoe Repair, G/B Sandwich Shop, Kendrick & Lindblad optometrists, Raiz Drug Store and Smilin' Joe's Liquor Store, plus smoke damage at the Coney Island Restaurant and Strauss Men's Store.

NUTRITION A LA CARTE

Everybody talks about losing weight. But some people seem to gain weight. How can they do it? Underweight people should eat more, and more often; they should eat more of the foods that furnish more calories in small bulk—milk, eggs, sweets, chocolate, fats, and oils. Ask your doctor about physical activity and more rest.
Next to water, protein is the most plentiful substance in your body. If all the water were squeezed out of you (an awful thought), about half your dry weight would be protein. A third of your protein is in muscle, a fifth in bone and cartilage. A tenth is in your skin, the rest is in other tissues and body fluids.
Calories are the measure of how much energy the food we eat will give us. Thus, a calorie is not, in itself, a nutrient. But since you need energy you need calories, but not too many. If you are fat it means you are storing too much future energy, or that you are luging around energy in the form of fat that you'll never use.
Protein needs little every day in their diet, particularly teenagers, girls and young adult women. Good food sources of iron are liver, kidney, liver sausage, shellfish, lean meats, egg yolk, soybeans, citrus beans and lentils, dried fruits, nuts, whole grain or enriched cereals and cereal products.
When I was growing up, ice cream was a delicacy we could enjoy only on special occasions, particularly in the summer. Now it is economically available all year round. Ice cream makes a notable contribution to your nourishment. Proteins, calcium and riboflavin (a B-vitamin) are the main nutrients.
Vitamin B1, iron, and some protein are prominent in enriched whole grain breads and cereals. When bread is made with milk, it contains more of milk, too. Breads and cereals make up one of the four food groups so necessary for good nutrition. The other groups are: the meat group, the milk group, and fruits and vegetables.
Income alone does not insure a good diet for your family. A recent Federal survey of 7,500 households revealed that poor diets are not uncommon among Americans with higher incomes. You need to know what foods make a nutritious meal, and to care about it, if your family is to eat well and be healthy.

A Great Degree of Civil Freedom Exists Despite Talk of Repression

By JEFFREY ST. JOHN
Copley News Service

"Never has there been so much talk of repression," observed the liberal writer Norman Podhoretz, "but never has there been so great a degree of freedom, probably in the history of the world as exists in the United States today."

The Republican Party and the Nixon administration should file this comment away for future use in the 1972 presidential campaign.
For it is clear that one of the major assaults on the Nixon administration's reelection effort will be an attempt to portray the GOP as the political party that attacked the Bill of Rights and launched America on the road to a police state.

In fact, since the Nixon administration took office, the charge has been made with rising frequency and falsety.
The HEW report gives currency to this coming campaign smear is the administration's actions concerning the Pentagon Papers and the Vietnam War.

It is calculated to discredit the Nixon administration in the interest of the Democratic Party.
"Some of the talk we hear about repression is, I think, merely a matter of partisan politics," observes Norman Podhoretz.

"It is calculated to discredit the Nixon administration in the interest of the Democratic Party."
"Some of it, however, is nonpartisan and is calculated not to discredit the Nixon administration but the American system—denying that it possesses even the one political virtue which it unmistakably does possess."

The coming smear campaign of the 1972 election year is, ironically, largely the outgrowth of a void of campaign issues for the Democratic Party.

The Nixon administration has gone so far to the left and co-opted so many of the Democrats' bread-and-butter issues that there is every indication the Democrats will wage a political campaign in 1972 based largely on smear.

8 Downtown Stores, Hotel Burn

JANUARY 13, 1947
The worst fire in Granite City history ruined a half-block of downtown business property, causing $300,000 loss. Electric, telephone and transportation facilities were disrupted. The blaze broke out again in debris on the floor above the Adams Appliance Co. on State Street three nights later but was extinguished without further loss. Eight stores and a 28-room hotel were destroyed. An L-shaped two-story structure facing 19th Street and extending around to State and a three-story building on the corner wedge—were destroyed or badly damaged.
Mayor Moerlein, who spent all night at the blaze, borrowed a crane the following evening from Granite City Steel Co. to topple unsupported second story walls of the J. H. Adams Variety Store and Moskinn's Clothing Store which were menacing traffic and pedestrians.
Other stores affected were J. J. Newberry Co., Lipson Shoe Repair, G/B Sandwich Shop, Kendrick & Lindblad optometrists, Raiz Drug Store and Smilin' Joe's Liquor Store, plus smoke damage at the Coney Island Restaurant and Strauss Men's Store.

A new senior citizens club for residents of the area surrounding Central Christian Church, 200 Johnson Road, will be formed during a potluck dinner and organizational meeting at the church at noon Friday.

The club is an outgrowth of the church's task force on community concerns but membership is not restricted to church members, Mrs. Margaret Rutter, church council chairman and a founder of the new club, emphasized.

"Membership is open to all senior citizens of the area and our activities will be determined by the wishes and needs of the members," Mrs. Rutter stated.

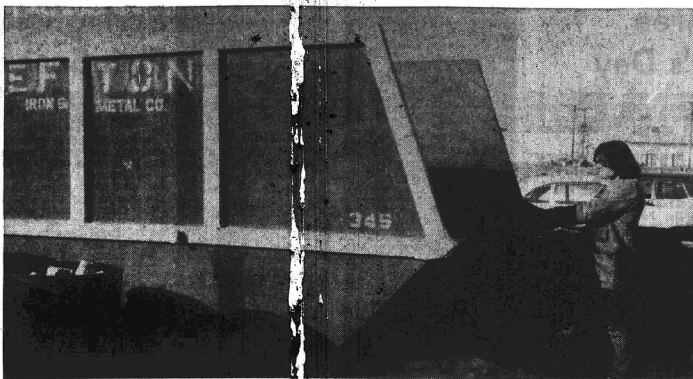

"We are hopeful we will be able to find the interests of the members and we will explore education, travel, crafts or other activities as means of being active and meeting the needs of our members," she explained.

The officers of other senior citizens clubs in the area have been invited to Friday's meeting to give suggestions and help organize the new club. The potluck and meeting are open to all who wish to attend, Mrs. Rutter said.

Venice High School Target of Burglary

Equipment valued at nearly $1,000 was taken from Venice High School, police were informed Monday.

Entry to the school apparently was gained by breaking a window in the old gymnasium. Taken were an adding machine, a printing calculator, a slide projector and slide holder and a tape recorder. Two record players were found outside of the old shop room door which had been forced open.

'Dumpster' Provided as Aid for CYS Recycling Program at Nameoki Center

Twelve tons of empty cans, roughly 205,600, are needed during the next four weeks to help the Youth Environmental Committee of Coordinated Youth Services retail use of a large dumpster on an from Continental Can Corp., St. Louis.

A minimum of 12 tons (over 31,400 containers) were required each week for the next month at the recycling pickup center, located at the rear of Kroger Co. store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, according to C. A. "Bud" MacMillan, CYS executive director.

The dumpster at the recycling center site was hauled here by Continental Can, removed hydraulically from the transfer vehicle and left on the parking lot surface behind the grocery store.

By area residents depositing the cans for recycling directly into the huge truck body themselves, considerable time and effort will be saved by the young people operating the project, MacMillan explained.

Previously, the containers had to be separated from other recycling materials — newspapers and glass bottles — which are still accepted but must be placed in the dumpster. The youths then transferred the cans to bins and loaded them onto a truck to transport to St. Louis.

At least two steps in the operation will be eliminated by having the dumpster, the CYS director explained.

Ideally, cans for recycling first should be well rinsed and labels and ends removed and placed inside the can and flattened.

Newspapers destined for recycling should be tied in bundles, placed in a grocery bag, or stacked in cardboard boxes. Telephone books, catalogs and magazines will not be accepted for recycling, MacMillan said.

Glass bottles and other glass containers also should be rinsed and lids removed. Bottles should be separated by color and may be broken for easy storage.

The Quad-Cities recycling center is in operation from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

DePauw Students Pay To Work in Recruiting

Granite City High School was the scene of an interesting innovation in college recruiting yesterday.

The question is "Who is more effective in generating enthusiasm about attending college—a college admissions counselor or college students?"

In a special exercise that mixed learning with doing, a team of DePauw University students and an admissions counselor from the campus presented a program for high school juniors and seniors.

According to DePauw's Admissions Director, Louis Fontaine, the opportunity to include students in college admissions work occurred when the private university decided to make the month of January a distinctly different educational experience.

Each student is permitted, within certain guidelines, to select a project of his choosing. College admissions work proved so popular it caused the maximum enrollment to be "oversubscribed."

The inaugural program last year carried DePauw undergraduates into 118 high schools in six states in three weeks. They talked to between 6,000-8,000 high school students and traveled 18,000 miles!

Counselors administrators and parents and students in the 118 high schools visited last year termed the novel approach "innovative," "refreshing," "lightening" and "thought-provoking."

The DePauw students who traveled called it "fantastic" and "exhausting."

"Apparently the idea of college students talking directly to high school students seems to generate much more enthusiasm than the traditional visit of a college representative," Fontaine's associate director David Hunt, concluded.

DePauw students perform the work, but they don't necessarily emphasize a DePauw education. They offer panel discussions on Transition from High School to College, Factors to Consider in Choosing a College, Should I Really Go to College? and a general discussion on campus life.

Some programs offer visual aids like slides, informality and dialogue are emphasized. Schools generally decided what they want to hear.

The 40 students in the project all underwent a one-week, seven-hour a day orientation with DePauw faculty and administrators before going into the field Jan. 10.

Students in the program pay their own full costs including transportation, food and lodging. A positive spinoff is that many stay with alumni who are anxious to find out about campus life and many stay with parents or friends' parents.

Kuntler to Speak At SIU-SW Campus

William Kuntler, defense attorney for the Chicago Seven, will speak at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 20 in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

His appearance will be sponsored by Accot, a new student group, programming visiting artists and lecturers at SIU-SW.

The group is run by a committee of five students, John Oxford, manager of the campus bookstore, serves as adviser.

There will be a small admission fee to the program, but the amount has not yet been determined.

Mrs. Parker Attends Residential Seminar

Mrs. Betty A. Parker of Granite City is attending a residential seminar as one of the requirements for the bachelor of liberal studies degree at the University of Oklahoma.

The three-week seminar which ends Friday is offered by the College of Liberal Studies and is held at the Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education.

The bachelor of liberal studies began at the University of Oklahoma in 1961 as a unique baccalaureate degree program for adult students. More than 1400 students are currently active in the program, and 270 BLS degrees have been conferred. The BLS program has been a model for other continuing education degree programs throughout the country.

Dale M. Knezevich, 2344 State St., has been named to the president's honor list at Lewis and Clark Community College for the fall semester by attaining a grade-point average of at least 3.5 out of a possible 4.0.

Needs for Technical Education are Growing

Almost 12,000 teenage high school students have been reached by the 115 man RIDC Speakers' Bureau so far in its Career Education Campaign.

The speakers goal is to reach 40,000 by the end of the school year in all public, private and parochial high schools in the eight county metropolitan St. Louis bi-state region, according to D. Reid Ross, executive vice-president Regional Industrial Development Corp. (RIDC).

The youngsters, or at least the vast majority of them, according to Ross, believe that a college education is essential to success.

The volunteers who have been recruited from leading business firms and educational institutions in the area are bearers of a counter message that can summed up in the title of Gershwin's song, "It Ain't Necessarily So."

So far, Ross reported, the volunteers have carried this provocative idea which is embodied in a teen-oriented movie and related material about careers through vocational-technical education, to 7,150 students assembled in 238 separate high school classrooms. One hundred forty-nine more showings of the film to another 4,500 students have been booked into regional high schools over the next three weeks, Ross noted, with the tempo of the entire public information drive picking up every day.

"Over the next quarter century," Ross said, "industry will generate tens of thousands more jobs in technical fields — jobs requiring specific vocational-technical training — than jobs calling for a college B.A. or B.S. degree.

Unless we get tens of thousands of our high school students and their parents to rethink educational realities, a great many young Americans are going to be bitterly disappointed when they first go job seeking.

Conversely, a great many exciting career opportunities will go begging or come to the surface in other parts of the country for want of suitably trained young people in the St. Louis region.

"I think we're the first metropolitan area," Ross added, "to meet this problem head-on through a massive public information campaign involving volunteer speakers from industry. The Rotary Clubs of the region have been especially active in helping to get this vital message across to the youngsters."

The climax of the entire campaign, Ross said, will be a Career Fair to be held April 24-27 at Kiel Convention Hall.

"We expect career exhibits from about 100 business firms and educational institutions," Ross noted, "and an attendance of about 20,000 students who will be bused to Kiel from most of the region's 200 public, parochial and private high schools."

For more information about the Speakers' Bureau and the Career Fair, call 1-314-725-0300.

Frohardt Pupils Seek Address of GI Overseas

If the postmaster of Spearfish, S.D., can provide the address of a former resident now serving in Vietnam, members of a fourth grade class at Frohardt School promise to supply the soldier with plenty of mail.

Mrs. Sidney Massie, a Frohardt teacher, has written to the postal official in Spearfish, hoping to obtain the address of a serviceman, Bob Foster, who sent a moving letter to one of her students, Lori McDaniel.

Spearfish, a community of 2,755, is located in the heart of the Black Hills of South Dakota, near the Wyoming border.

The teacher said the search results from a Christmas mailing project undertaken by her pupils.

In October, Mrs. Massie read of a mailing service, originating in Georgia that sought greeting cards to be remailed to lonely servicemen in Vietnam.

After explaining the program to pupils in her fourth grade reading class, the children decided to make their own cards and write personal messages to the men overseas.

A total of 30 individual cards were sealed and forwarded to the mailing service headquarters, Mrs. Massie said.

One of the cards struck a responsive cord in a young man from Spearfish, who wrote back to the small sender, Lori McDaniel. In haste to open the envelope, the return address was partially destroyed, the teacher explained.

The children were very happy when they first got the letter and each one wants to write to the soldier, Mrs. Massie said.

The letter from Vietnam reads in part—

"Dear Lori,"
"I am a serviceman in Vietnam and just got a nice home-made card from you for Christmas. I just wanted to write back and thank you for being considerate and caring for us guys over here."

"It is a great feeling to know there are beautiful people like you who show your concern for your fellow Americans. It makes us proud to be serving our country so that you and your family can live free in the United States."

"I am 20 years old and come from Spearfish, South Dakota. I still have a few years to serve and then I'll go to college—maybe in Arizona."

"We're pulling out of here (Vietnam) slowly, but it takes time. Thanks again for writing. Hope you too had a real Happy Christmas. And I agree—Keep Christ in Christmas."

"Take Care, Peace, Lori."

"A Friend, Bob Foster."

If the attempt to get his address is successful the entire class will keep him supplied with plenty of mail in the months to come, Mrs. Massie said.

Book on Sociology of Sex Edited by Prof

James M. Henslin, assistant professor of sociology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is editor of a newly published book, "Studies in the Sociology of Sex."

For more information about the book, call 1-314-725-0300.

The book, published by Appleton-Century-Crofts of New York, contains 15 pieces written specifically for the book. Three of the articles are by Henslin.

Henslin, of Collinsville, earned his Ph.D. from Washington University in St. Louis. His specialty is deviant behavior.

"The basic idea of the book is that all societies are interested in the sex drives of individual members," Henslin said.

"Sex is never an individual matter—society exerts controls that affect the individual's sexual behavior."

The book has sections on premarital sex, abortion, prostitution, male swapping and other topics.

Secretarial Job Types Described for Students

Members of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association had an opportunity to learn the different aspects of the secretarial career when a panel composed of an education secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Luckert, a legal secretary, Mrs. Marcia Barron, a secretary in a small business, Mrs. Ruth Houser, and a secretary for a large corporation, Mrs. Charlie Vunovic, discussed job duties, requirements and advantages at the monthly FSA meeting held last week.

Pam Cooper, FSA member, acted as moderator for the panel discussion and the question-and-answer session which followed.

One of the main requirements of being a legal secretary, as reported by Mrs. Barron, was to treat all business in a strictly confidential manner. This is one job where you can't go home and discuss the day's happenings with your family, she said.

In addition, because a legal secretary meets the prospective clients before their bosses do, it is important that she maintain a good appearance and a pleasant manner at all times as they judge the firm by the opinion they get of the secretary, she added.

Screen Calls

A lawyer's time is very valuable, with three-fourths of the week usually spent out of the office, and for this reason the secretary must screen all calls, furnishing answers to clients when possible, and setting up appointments for those who are not clients.

Also due to the fact that the bosses are in court much of the time, law offices have started using dictaphone machines so they can dictate their work and the secretary can type it during the boss' absence from the office.

For this reason Mrs. Barron urged the FSA members to get acquainted with the dictaphone machine, as well as other office machines, including the IBM executive typewriter which is more difficult to learn to operate but which many offices are now using.

Mrs. Barron, in introducing herself, mentioned that she had received an associate degree from SIU. In answer to a later question regarding the advantage of additional schooling following high school graduation as far as the starting salary was concerned, Mrs. Barron expressed the opinion that those with the most education merit a higher starting salary.

Early Start

Mrs. Dorothy Luckert, secretary to Principal Lawrence McCauley at Granite City High School, told the group that her day starts at 7:30 a.m., when she turns on the P.A. system. In addition to keeping the payroll records for 156 teachers, 4 administrators, 26 custodians, and 8 secretaries, she must screen all calls and talk to irate parents and turn them over to the proper person; also type the weekly bulletins and handle all of McCauley's correspondence.

She was later asked what work they did during the summer when school was closed and stated that although it might seem that there wouldn't be much work, the summer months were equally well-filled with various duties, including ordering supplies needed for fall classes.

Mrs. Ruth Houser, who runs the office of her husband's company, Houser Automotive, along with two other secretaries, advised that the main difference in working in a small office as compared to a large corporation was that the office workers handled all the work, accounts receivable, accounts payable, ordering, inventories, payrolls, whereas in large corporations separate departments are set up to take care of different operations.

When questioned about the dress codes in offices, Mrs. Houser answered that they usually wore pant suits to work, due to the nature of the business, but that the way a secretary dressed depended entirely upon her boss' preference, and varies from one office to another.

Boss in Error

After telling of her past experience of working in a large corporation, Mrs. Vunovic brought out the fact that if your boss is in error, it is more diplomatic to take the blame as this makes the boss feel better, and it is part of the secretary's job to make her boss feel important.

She mentioned that many bosses prefer the secretaries to answer all phone calls, not because they don't wish to talk to people, but because they prefer knowing who is calling before they get on the line. In many cases the secretary can handle the call without bothering her boss with it.

When asked if a girl had to have shorthand training to be a secretary, Mrs. Luckert told them this was not always true in the case of education secretaries. She also was asked if co-op jobs helped in getting a job after graduation. She expressed her personal opinion that if two candidates had equal qualifications for a job, with most employers would feel the same.

Following the panel's presentation, Pam Cooper presented a candy on behalf of the chapter.

Meeting Attendees: FSA members were invited by president Karen Kinnine who only three meetings could be missed, after which time a member was automatically dropped from the chapter.

If members had excuses for missing meetings, they should be certain to notify one of the faculty advisors, Mrs. Judi Sparks or Glen Hubbard, so the absence would not be counted against them. Members also were reminded that they must maintain a "C" average in all business courses to qualify for membership.

An invitation was extended to chapter members by Mrs. Vunovic to attend the monthly dinner meeting of the chapter.

Two Appointed to New School Finance Group

Raymond Laws, assistant professor of educational administration at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, is the second faculty member selected this week to serve on the 11th Advisory Committee on School Finance.

The appointments were made by Michael Bakalis, state superintendent of public instruction. Also named was Leo Cohen, professor of economics.

The committee of 17 held its first meeting Monday in Springfield to analyze suggested methods to replace the property tax as the major source of local school financing in Illinois.

The two were to attend a national meeting on school finance today in Chicago. The meeting is sponsored by the federally financed National Educational Finance Project and will include educators from throughout the Midwest.

Cohen, who has written extensively on tax reform, testified last Thursday in Springfield at the request of the Illinois Senate-House committee studying alternatives to the property tax, which according to a provision in the new Illinois Constitution must be phased out by 1979.

Earnings Set Record First Year in Office -- Dixon

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon has released a "report to the public" on his first year's service in the office.

Dixon, who took the oath as treasurer Jan. 11, 1971, after serving 20 years in the Illinois General Assembly, reviewed his first year's record by highlighting these points:

—Ethical Standards. Dixon said he began his term in office "by selling on the open market all bank and savings and loan stock held by me prior to my election" and by resigning as director of a local bank in his home town of Belleville.

No State law requires either action. Also, Dixon said that besides filing his own Conflict of Interest disclosure, he requires the same of his top management personnel on a quarterly basis.

—Payroll and Budget. Dixon said the treasurer's office payroll has been held at the 93 employees his predecessor in office had; a number not quite half the size of the next smallest State elective office. In spite of a dramatic increase in the cost of Illinois government in the last couple of years and the continuing inflationary trend,

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

the treasurer announced, "I am holding the line by introducing in this session of the legislature a budget of the same size as last year's with one exception . . . the increased Social Security and Retirement Contributions required by law."

—Broadened Investments.

Investment Policies. Dixon reported his policies have broadened the investment programs of his predecessor, now U.S. Senator Adlai E. Stevenson III, and enlarged the community service program to include time deposits in banks undertaking anti-pollution loans. A new record number of banks—857 of the state's 1,127 institutions—now hold State funds, with resulting "greater geographic distribution of State funds," assisting local economies throughout the State. For the first time, he said, Federal funds in Illinois are invested in prevailing interest rates and all compensatory balances held in banks in return for services to the treasurer's office have been terminated and future services to the office will be obtained on a bid basis.

For these reasons, Dixon said, "we set a new record in the office for fiscal 1970-71 with earnings of $63,500,000 despite a depressed money market."

He noted, however, that "candor would require us to indicate now that earnings will be down for 1971-72 because of two factors: (1) less funds are available for investment due to increased State expenditures; and (2) the sharp decline in interest rates of almost 3%."

—Outlines New Policies.

Treasurer Dixon pointed to several new policies and procedural improvements undertaken in his office during the past year and planned for the future.

—A comprehensive, computerized cash management study program will be fully implemented by April of 1972, to permit "precise and definitive predictions of Illinois' fiscal position at any time."

—Recognizing the desirability of tighter fiscal controls, "we have enlarged the scope of our internal audit procedures."

Information about state fund deposits is "available at any time upon request" and computer reports concerning the monthly position of all state government offices with respect to amounts spent in appropriated categories and the remaining balances are provided to legislative leaders of both houses and the Illinois press corps.

Dixon also noted his "cooperation and rapport with the investment community that included meetings with all ten group division meetings of the Illinois Bankers Association, throughout the state, and to a program of public information that gave details about the work of the treasurer's office to members of service groups in scores of communities, to college and university audiences, and "even to a roundtable of fourth-graders seeking to learn about state government."

2 Million Motorists Still Without Plates

More than two million Illinois motorists have yet to apply for their 1972 license plates with the deadline for having the plates mounted on the vehicles now only five weeks away, Secretary of State John W. Lewis announced.

The deadline for having the plates on the vehicles, not merely applied for, is midnight Tuesday, Feb. 15. This applies to all vehicles registered on a calendar year basis.

Registration at present totals about 1,900,000 less than half of the expected 4,100,000 to be registered by the deadline, but about 75,000 more than were registered at the same time a year ago, Secretary Lewis said. For the entire year, registration of these vehicles will total about 5,000,000.

Lewis urged motorists planning to apply for their plates by mail to have their applications in the Secretary of State's office by Jan. 25 to allow time for processing of applications and delivery of plates in time for the deadline. He pointed out that plates are third class mail, and require more time for delivery than first class mail. Plates may be purchased over the counter at two Secretary of State's office outlets in Springfield and three in Chicago, and also at 115 banks throughout the state.

Regional Report -- Riverfront, Research, Retail Projects in the News

(Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corporation)

Nationwide interest was expressed in development of the East St. Louis riverfront. Fourteen bids from 54 consulting firms and individuals across the nation were submitted to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council for the $465,000 railroad relocation study.

Members of the Gateway Council's Relocation Task Force are studying the bids and final selection could be made during the task force's Feb. 18 meeting. The study will be primarily of the feasibility of removing the railroads from the East St. Louis riverfront and other parts of Illinois and St. Louis.

In other area development, one of the largest fatigue-testing devices ever built will be installed in American Steel Foundries, Granite City product development and test laboratory this year.

American Steel Foundries, a Chicago-based operating unit of Amsted Industries, is investing more than $300,000 in the test to probe the strength and service life of the company's complete line of cast steel freight car components.

Codex, Inc. announced it will build a one-story office building east of Illinois 157 near its intersection with Center Grove Road on land recently annexed to the City of Edwardsville.

Construction on the building, which will house the main offices of Codex and the J. F. Barton Construction Co., is expected to start within 60 days. Plans for development of two shopping centers in Madison were presented to the City Council by Mayor Mike Sasyk. The $1.25 million centers, which would be financed by revenue bonds, are planned for a square block in downtown Madison.

and in the north end of the city.

Both centers would be in the form of a single, one-story building housing stores, offices and other businesses.

The mayor, estimating the centers would increase business in the city by about $3 million a year, told the council that development will depend on acceptance by the business community and the public. Proposed locations have not been disclosed.

In labor news, a strike of 260 service employees at Christian Welfare Hospital, which began Jan. 1, continued as employees and management awaited an expected session with federal mediators.

Belleville Carpenters Local 440 halted its picketing of the Scott Air Force Base housing project when the National Labor Relations Board agreed to rule on the union dispute. With no break in a more than six-week-old strike at General Steel Industries, Granite City, 117 salaried and supervisory employees were laid off indefinitely.

The Illinois Board of Higher Education approved a 1972-73 operating budget of $26.8 million for Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. That is about $800,000 more than last year's budget but $4 million less than requested by the SIU Trustees.

The budget as approved cuts $997,000 from administrative overhead and more than $222,000 allocated to the undergraduate engineering program, and also reduces the secondary education program.

In other action, the BHE approved a $2.8 million budget for State Community College of East St. Louis. The higher education board also approved a $400,000 planning grant for the East St. Louis Comprehensive Education Commission for planning a $16 million educational complex in East St. Louis.

Residents in the news include George M. Kyrie, elected president of the First National Bank & Trust in Alton, the 11th consecutive generation of his family to hold the top position at the bank since 1857; Ronald R. Melhorn, who won an easy victory in the Swansea mayoral election. Edward J. Delmore, Jr. of Caseyville elected chairman of the Bi-State Development Agency; Bill Cox, appointed news editor of the Metro-East Journal; Dr. Matthew B. Eissle, appointed medical director of Belleville Memorial Hospital; and Gary W. Haskell, who succeeds W. C. Shreck as president of the Collinsville Chamber of Commerce. In general area news, Children's Community, a center for retarded children in Waterloo, has opened with the completion of two of a proposed 20 cottages; the $378,675 sewer contract for Caseyville Township of last year did less than 1,230,000 tons of foreign steel entered the U. S. during November 1.

The 16,988,000 tons of steel imports through November also were 1,531,000 tons more than the target limit of 15,457,000 tons for the full 12 months of 1971 set under the voluntary arrangement by which European Community and Japanese steel producers pledged to limit their exports to the U. S.

The declared value of January-November 1971 steel imports was $2,434,600,000. During the same period, U. S.

mills exported only $510 million worth of steel. This left a steel trade gap of $1,924,000,000 — or roughly $20 million more than the $1.7 billion overall trade deficit for the U. S. reported by the Commerce Department for the first 11 months of the year.

November's imports included 716,000 tons of sheet and strip, 167,000 tons of pipe and tubing and 140,000 tons of plate. November's imports pushed their 11-month total to almost 75,000 tons, while the nearly 38,000 tons of other specialty steel imported during the month raised this 11-month total to more than 375,000 tons.

Drivers Who Drink Blamed for Causing 25,000 Traffic Deaths Each Year

By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE
Can you imagine the outrage of the public if a fully loaded 747 jet crashed because the pilot was drunk?
"Drunk pilot kills 360 jet passengers," the headlines would read.
And what if this happened every week of the year—from the same cause? This is a vivid illustration of what lies behind the cold statistics about drivers who drink and are responsible for perhaps 25,000 deaths a year.
Ask any state trooper what is the worst part of his job. One told me:
"I used to think I would get hardened to the sight of bodies of the living and the dead in auto crashes.

"Now I know I'll never get used to it. It never gets any better—it's horrible every time."
For young people between 18 and 24, traffic deaths are the leading cause of death—and every responsible survey shows that half of the traffic deaths are related to drinking.
I don't expect an overnight miracle to occur because Illinois will finally have a tough drunk driver law next July 1. But when I signed the law, I said it will unquestionably save lives that are being snuffed out now.

Only about one-twentieth of our auto drivers can be described as "problem drinkers," as contrasted with the driver who occasionally has too much to drink.
Yet these problem drinkers are killing Americans at the rate of 260 a week—or one every 28 minutes.
Our first problem is to get them off our roads, and then to try to help them solve their problems before they take the wheel of a one-ton projectile. The terms of the law are straightforward, and it might be useful to review them in simple language.

All drivers, as a condition of being granted a driver's license legally give their consent to have their breath tested when they are arrested for drunken driving.
The breath testing equipment must display to the arrested driver the test result, and it is also printed on a test record.
Two tests must be given, "within a reasonable time" of the arrest, and the tests must not be less than 15 minutes apart.
If the driver refuses to take the tests, his license will be suspended for three months. A suspension of six months will result from a subsequent offense within five years.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 13, 1972 Page 33
The law establishes one-tenth of 1% as the level beyond which the court may presume the driver to be under the influence of liquor.
In practical terms, this level is reached when a person weighing 150 pounds downs three 1½-ounce drinks of whiskey or 4½ beers in one hour.
Many safeguards are provided in the law, including strict regulation of testing personnel, and procedures that arresting officers must follow.
Persons under arrest must be granted an opportunity for an independent test by civilians, at their own expense, and officers must provide transportation to the test site.
Officers are required to report to the local Circuit Court clerk the refusal of persons under arrest to take the police breath tests.
County clerks, in turn, must then notify the person that he has 28 days in which to request a hearing. If no request is made, the secretary of state then must suspend the license of the driver for the prescribed period.
Going back to the time of arrest, the person who has been ticketed must be given an opportunity to seek the advice of an attorney.
But he has only 90 minutes in which to agree to the tests or lose his license. With the approval of the Illinois law, every state now has similar "implied consent" laws against drunken driving.
Strict enforcement and strict standards will save lives in Illinois. As one newspaper notes: "Far better late than never." I agree.

Births, Deaths Here Show Decline in 1971

The number of deaths in the Quad-City area during 1971 was the lowest since 1965 and the number of births was the lowest since 1968, according to a vital statistics report released by Robert W. Stevens, city clerk of Granite City.
A total of 414 deaths reported during the year was 33 less than the 447 deaths of the previous year and was the lowest since 408 deaths occurred in 1965. Of the 1971 totals, 32 died in December, according to the report.
The highest number of deaths reported in any one month of 1971 was 44 in June, followed by January with 43 and March with 42. The least deaths in any one month was reported in October with 20, it was reported.

1,389 Births
A total of 1,389 babies were born here in 1971, well below the 1,267 in 1970 and the lowest since the 1,095 births reported in 1968, Stevens reported.
Eighty-six babies were born here in December, the third smallest number of any month of the year. A total of 77 births was reported in May and 82 babies were born in February. September had the most births with 116 and August followed with 112, the report showed.
A total of 13 fetal deaths occurred in 1971, the same number as in 1970 and below the 16 fetal deaths in 1969, according to the report.
It also was reported that three fetal deaths occurred in July, the highest of any month in 1971, and two fetal deaths were reported in each March, May and December. No fetal deaths were reported in February, September, October and November and one each was reported in January, April, June and August.

Boy Scouts to Earn Gold Nuggets in Klondike Derby

Is there gold on the SIU-SW campus?
On Saturday 400 Boy Scouts will work hard to earn "gold" nuggets at their Klondike Derby which is held every other year by the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America.
Purpose of the Klondike Derby is to provide patrol practice of scouting skills in a winter setting.
The Boy Scout patrols will arrive at the site on the SIU-SW campus and register at 9:30 a.m. Jan. 15. The headquarters area has been named "Nanaimo" after the Alaskan town.
After registering, the patrols will proceed to six activity areas, all named for Alaskan towns, where their scouting skills will be tested.
Each of the 70 patrols expected to participate will have with them an authentic Klondike sled built by the Scouts. Members of the patrol will pull their sled to each activity area. The sled will be judged on how well it is built, designed, painted and how well it holds together during the day.
At the station known as "Whitehorse," patrol members will estimate, by use of methods found in the Boy Scout manual, a distance between horizontal points and heights.
First Aid Tests
Proceeding to Skagway, the patrol members will be tested on their backwoods first aid, including how to construct a makeshift stretcher from materials at hand. Knowledge of Morse code will be tested at Dawson.

In Fairbanks the patrol will try its hand following a map. Firebuilding, with the traditional at Forty Mile, and sled racing and sled judging will take place at Nome.
At each station the scouts will be judged on performance and will be given from one to five "gold" nuggets. Participation patches will be given to every person attending and ribbons will be given to the patrols.
The event will be under the direction of "Klondike Tom" (Dr. Thomas Layloff) of Granite City and "Renegade Rick" (J. Richard Hooks) of Venice, both members of the Council Activities Committee.
"Honest Rollin" (G. Rollin Henn) of Granite City will be the "keeper of the gold".
Explorer Posts Assist
"Yukon John" (John G. Peka- rick) of Granite City is the "Unit wab" (Quad-City) district activity chairman, will be responsible.

IS OUR HOUSE THE BEST VALUE IN TOWN TODAY???

We Think So—and Heres' Why... In our opinion the Basement House, in the Granite City area, will increase in value, over the value of a non-basement or slab house with a garage, to the extent that its increased value should, within ten years, be worth the price of a new car to you.

The basement home, has the advantage of easy and inexpensive expansion for additional bedroom or family room, while you are making money living in it.

In other words... the basement house has better, quicker, and higher re-sale value.

DATSON DEALER

Mr. Trotter Says:

We can't give you a new Datsun 240-2 for a "Hole-in-One" (like the boys in the Glen Campbell Open) but we sure can make you the right kind of deal on a new Datsun car or pick-up truck (a full 1/2 ton).

Why not drop in and test drive one of the new Datsuns? Like we say, "Drive a Datsun, then decide." Most cars and trucks are serviced and ready for immediate delivery.

Film Showing to Enlist Support for March Multiple Sclerosis Campaign

The motion picture "My Friend Joe" explaining Multiple Sclerosis and its effect on one young man will be shown to area Parent-Teacher Associations this month and next. Mrs. Dorothy Trower, 2508 E. 24th St., local drive chairman. The presentations will precede the official start of the 1972 Multiple Sclerosis drive in March. The campaign will include a house-to-house canvass of about 500,000 cases in the United States. It is hoped that many PTA members will volunteer to help in the campaign to raise funds to combat the crippling disease which strikes one in every 400 young adults. Mrs. Trower said she believes the PTA members and the public will respond to the appeal, since the disease presents a threat to school children as they near adulthood. The disease usually strikes young adults between the ages of 20 and 40, the years that should be the most active, vital time of life, she stated.

Seeking Cure

"Just as continuing contributions to the polo fund led to the development of a polo vaccine, Multiple Sclerosis Society is seeking sufficient funds to find a cure or deterrent for the mysterious disease affecting adults' central nervous systems," she stated.

Herself a victim of the disease, Mrs. Trower said there have never had a day's illness, she said.

She explained the disease occurs for an inexplicable reason, when a material called myelin coating nerves dissolves and is replaced by scar tissue. Nerve impulses have trouble getting by the scarred spots and malfunctions occur. The disease usually progresses in a series of unpredictable attacks, each attack causing further disability, sometimes interfering with periods of respite of symptoms.

The average life expectancy after the onset of symptoms is more than 25 years, she said.

Cause Unknown

Although many theories about the cause of the disease have been studied, no true cause has been located. Some theorize the disease may be a congenital predisposition, heredity, a constitutional peculiarity or may be caused by injury or exposure to heat or cold, a spirochete or a virus, toxins, vitamin deficiencies, abnormalities of blood clotting, spasms of blood vessels or even psychological factors, she stated.

Numerous medications are being tried but the combination that may stop the spread of the disease thus far has eluded scientists and doctors, Mrs. Trower stated. Antibiotics, vitamins, medicines that dilate blood vessels, histamines, insulin and hormones such as cortisone and ACTH have been tried. Some have improved the condition of patients but none has been a general aid to all MS victims.

Medical treatment is resorted to good general medical care, prevention of upper respiratory and other infections and conditioning to assure the greatest effort to continue activity by the patient, she said.

Society Offers Aid

Besides supporting exhaustive research into the cause and cure for the disease, the MS Society offers aid, sympathy and guidance to MS victims and their families, Mrs. Trower explained.

Young adults are our most important national assets. They are the people who are starting and supporting families and carrying on a great part of our industrial and business activity. The contrast between what they might have been and what they are when afflicted with MS presents a tragic picture," Mrs. Trower said.

The motion picture, "My Friend Joe," narrated by Jimmy Stewart, is the story of a young man with a lovely wife and two children and the promise of a successful career who suddenly finds himself in the nightmarish world of MS. There is no cure. It tells of what is being done to combat the mystery of MS and the hope that, through research, the cause, prevention and cure will be found, Mrs. Trower explained.

Howlett-Kucharski Race Seen as Liveliest Scrap

By KEN WATSON
Capley News Service
SPRINGFIELD — The Statehouse sees a sizzler for secretary of state.

Democrat Michael J. Howlett and Republican Edmund J. Kucharski are expected to furnish the liveliest scrap for the office since the late Republican Charles F. Carpenter edged out Democratic incumbent Edward J. Barrett by 9,303 votes in the famous long-count decision of 1952. It took about a week after the election day before all the returns were in.

The outlook for the 1972 secretary of state race has changed frequently during the past year. In mid-summer it looked like appointed Secretary John W. Lewis would run for a full term and probably win against anticipated weak opposition.

But Lewis ran into racetrack stock trouble and Howlett, although ostensibly running hard for governor, quietly let it be known he would accept the secretary's spot on the ballot.

Prospects of any strong GOP opposition to Howlett looked dim for awhile and the Statehouse was ready to concede that patronage-rich office to the Democrats.

Then the Kucharski candidacy developed and this coupled with mounting Democratic internal troubles and a sudden surge of hope if not optimism among Illinois Republicans has set the stage for a hard-fought secretary of state contest.

Still a Favorite

Howlett still rates as a favorite at this stage but few beneath the Capitol Dome including Howlett himself are taking the race for granted. Howlett has won twice for auditor, but it hasn't been easy. In 1968 he won re-election over Republican William C. Harris by a relatively modest 108,725 votes.

This win did have some luster, however, since Howlett's was the biggest plurality of the three winning Democrats. The late Secretary of State Paul Powell won re-election by 105,029 votes and Paul Simon made history in winning lieutenant governor by 96,421.

Republican winners that year were Richard M. Nixon for President by 134,900 votes in Illinois, the late U. S. Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen by 285,705, Richard B. Ogilvie for governor by 127,794 and William J. Scott for Attorney General by 256,588.

But Kucharski, even while losing in a bid for state treasurer in 1970, made a comparatively better showing than did Howlett two years previously. Kucharski not only led the Republican ticket but he came within 88,772 votes of beating Democrat Alan J. Tondero.

Kucharski's GOP running mates U. S. Sen. Ralph Tyler Smith and Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction, went down by 545,336 and 473,261 votes respectively.

The Howlett-Kucharski race will be somewhat of a paradox since Howlett is recognized as unusually strong downstate for a Democrat, while Kucharski who was elected Cook county treasurer in 1966, has a remarkable vote-getting record in places as far north as Chicago.

There is one fascinating factor in Illinois politics that could decide the Kucharski-Howlett race. This is the huge Polish vote in the City of Chicago. It has long been recognized Chicago has more Poles than any city in the world with the exception of Warsaw, whose population, according to statisticians, now places it more than a million.

For Kucharski will not be the only Pole on the ballot. So will Congressman Roman C. Pucinski as the Democrat candidate for U. S. Senator. There is a strong possibility that U. S. Sen. Edward S. Muskie of Maine will be the first Polish candidate for President.
